

Pickled SHISHITO PEPPERS

A unique twist on a classic, Pickled Shishito Peppers are the addictive garnish you've been waiting for. Enjoy them on burgers, crackers, or on their own!

STEPS:

- Wash all Shishito Peppers, remove stems, and sterilize mason jars before preparing Peppers.
- Slice Peppers into 1-inch slices.
- Pack sliced Peppers into jars. Pour water into each mason jar to come within ½ inch of the rim.
- Take first mason jar and pour water into measuring cup. Note the volume, pour off half the water, and replace it with vinegar to bring back to full volume. Add 2 tablespoons salt and 2 tablespoons sugar for every 3 cups of the water-vinegar mixture. Repeat for second jar.
- Pour vinegar mixture into a sauce pan and add all secondary ingredients.
- Bring vinegar mixture to a boil on high heat for 2 minutes. Remove from heat and pour liquid into jars to fully cover the Peppers. Screw on lids tightly.
- Refrigerate for up to 1 month, leaving longer for stronger pickle flavor.

Prep time: 15 Minutes
Cook time: 2 Minutes
Serves: 2 Quarts

INGREDIENTS:

- 4 packs NatureFresh Farms Shishito Peppers
- 2 1-quart mason jars
- 1 liter white wine or pickling vinegar
- 12 tbsp. white sugar
- 12 tbsp. kosher salt
- 2 tsp. mustard seeds
- 1 tbsp. crushed red pepper flakes
- 2 tbsp. coriander seeds
- 2 tbsp. black peppercorns
- 4 cloves garlic, sliced
- 2 bay leaves

CHEF'S TIP:

For best results, leave your Peppers to marinate in the pickling mixture for at least 1 week before eating. If you don't have all the pickling spices on hand, you can also substitute a pre-made pickling mixture.
